COLONIAL THEATRE.

Tom Moore and Prof. Lewis B. Allyn of Westfield, Mass., Here Today.

One of the strongest dramas of the day is offered in the film entitled Poison, a two-reel offering of the Polson, a two-reel offering of the Kalem cast, in which appears Prof. Lewis B. Allyn of Westfield, Mass., the advocate of the pure food movement, as originated by him, and Tom Moore, the genial local favorite; also Marguerite Courtot, his fascinating little leading lady. The play deals with a wealthy manufacturer of adulterated foods. Refusing to listen to his son's repeated criticisms of the methods and repeated criticisms of the methods and products, the manufacturer's little daughter opens a jar of the jam as sold by her father and is taken vio-lently ill with the coaltar-dyed product and barely escapes with her life, A visit to Prof. Lewis B. Allyn of West-field, Mass., shows the error of the ways elso, and a new factory is crected on the site of the one which burned Buring the child's illness. Other splenflid features today are Her Country Cousin, The Black Diamond, secret service film, and When Samuel Skid-ded, comedy. Coming Monday is the superb and spectacular extravaganza entitled Women and Wine, a five-reel superlative Brady drama. Today is lollypop day. Free lollypops for the children at the matinee.

NEXT WEEK AT THE AUDITORIUM A gala holiday bill has been secured for the Auditorium for all next week, opening with the Decoration day mat-inee on Monday afternoon. The show is entitled The Beauty Spot and has a cast of 25 people, the largest of any show that has played Norwich at pop-ular prices. It is coming here direct from the Union Square theatre, New York city, where it will complete a very successful run this (Saturday) night. An orchestra leader is carried by the company in order to assure the proper carrying out of the musical numbers, and an elegent special stage setting will be used for the bill on the first three days of the week, and many exquisite costumes will be worn by the girls in the show. It is a big bar-gain show and has never before been

If it were love that blows on every barren hillside, in every vale of snows; if only love were blowing. How good 'twould be to sleep. Down, down in drifted beauty Beneath its deepest deep!

If only love were winter, If only love were winter,
And only love were spring;
If only love were summer,
Were it the autumn's wing—
The rain might pour forever,
The snow pile high the street;
If love were only weather,
All storms would be so sweet!
